KNOW SECURITY OR NO SECURITY

Without trained staff to effectively scrutinize and maintain a company’s security policy, security violations and data privacy exposures can adversely affect business reputation and possibly expose a company to legal action.

A key component of security controls within an installation is the separation and segregation of duties, ensuring initiation, approval, implementation and audit of security requests and settings are performed by different staff.

SMARTER MAINFRAME TRAINING

Structured, highly interactive training modules promote rapid growth in knowledge and expertise on RACF and/or CA ACF2.

Each module concentrates on a specific area of the security package, allowing targeted training on topics relevant to specific job roles.

The flexibility of e-learning enables training anywhere, anytime. Personnel complete many times more training each year, making your system many times more secure!

MAINFRAME SECURITY CURRICULUM

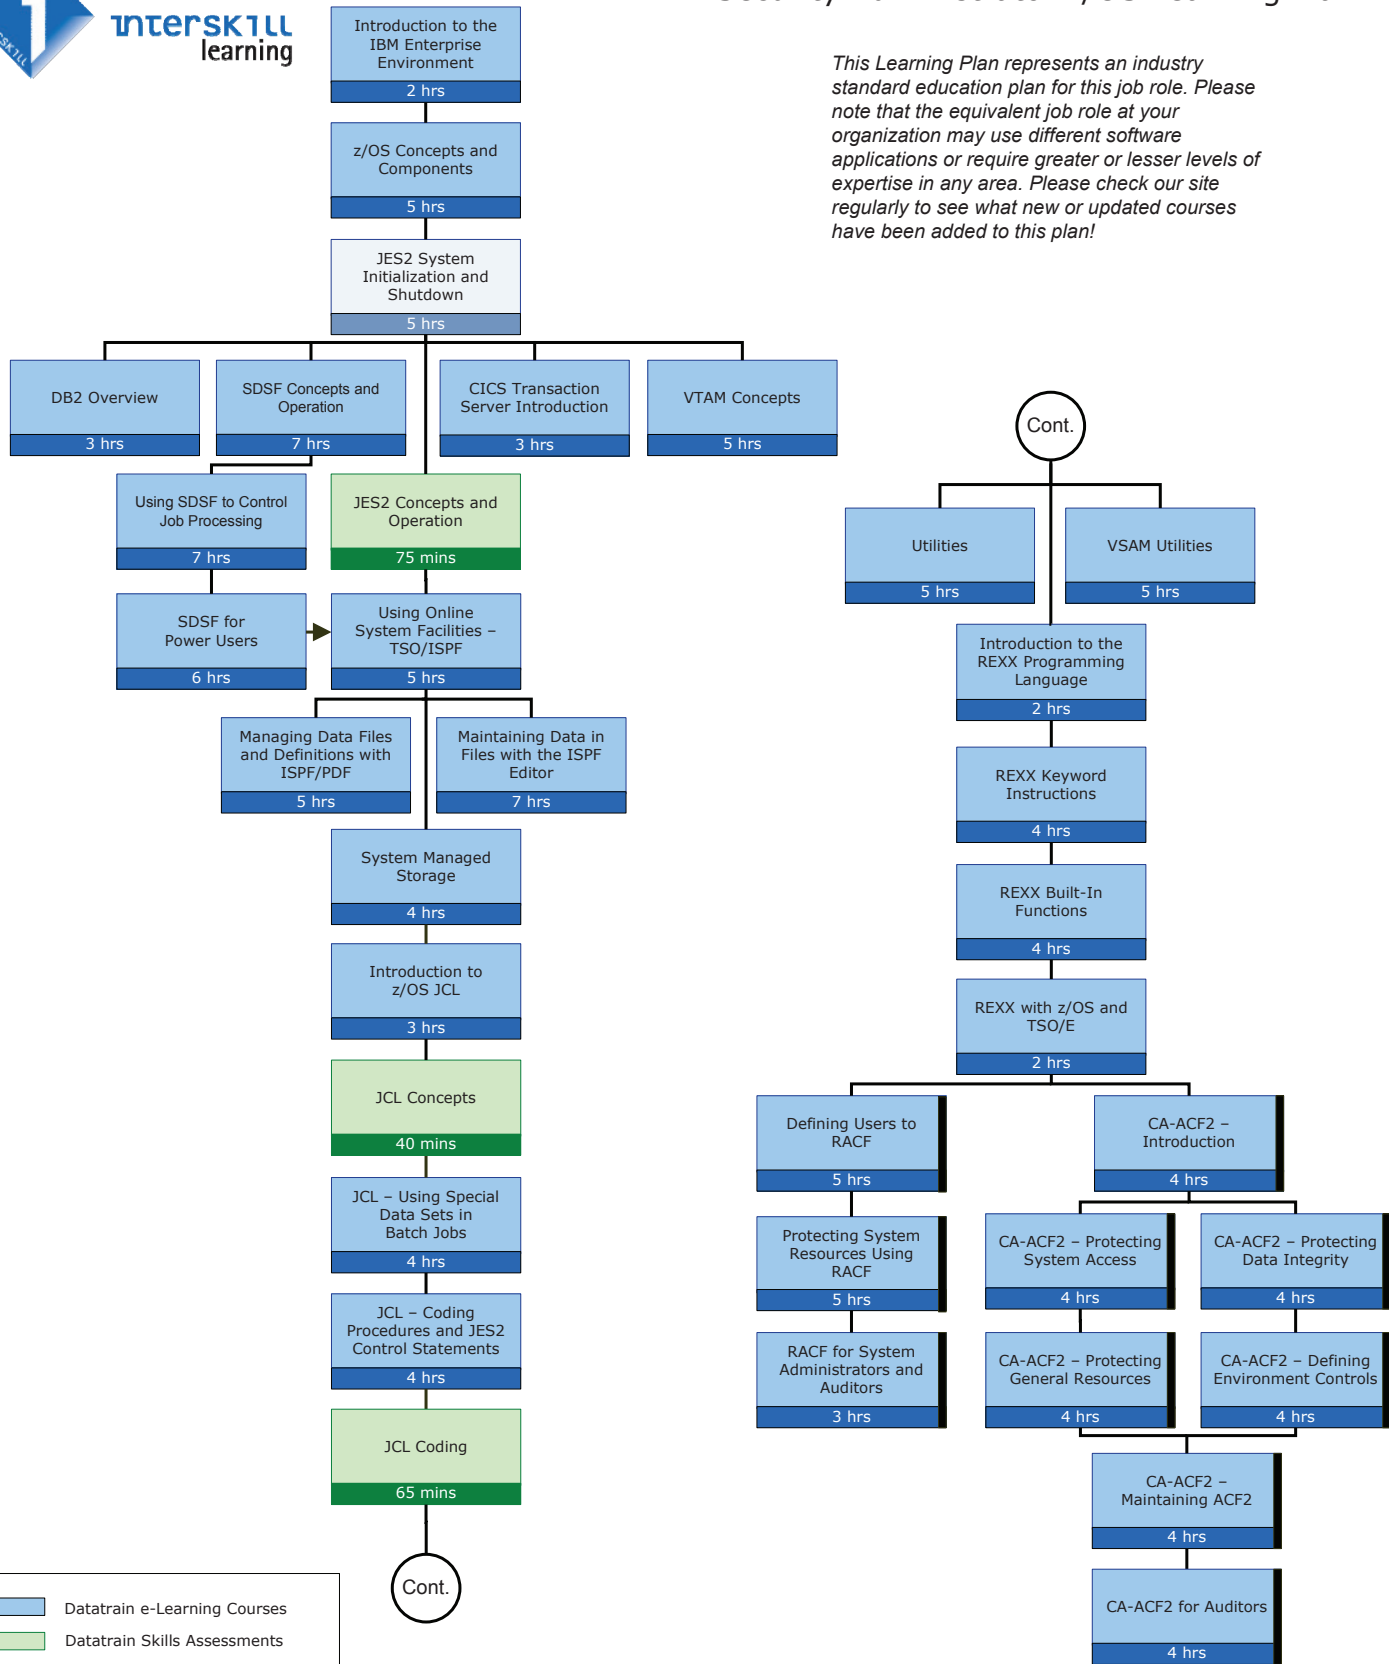

Key components include rules and profiles for Access Control, Resource Control, System Settings and how to assign centralized or delegated security administration.

Auditing functions are explained & demonstrated in separate modules, providing Auditors the skills required to understand & monitor changes & settings defined by the security package.

RACF & CA ACF2 are extensively covered, plus many related mainframe topics.
